An Ohio Council for the Social Studies Pre-Conference Event

Thursday, April 10, 2008 @ the Ohio Historical Society
9:00AM—3:30PM (lunch and transportation provided)

The Ohio Historical Society has a wealth of resources available to Social Studies educators at all levels. Join us for this exciting pre-conference event to learn more about these opportunities, as well as experience OHS as you never have before!

Discover Archeology: Learn more about this popular OHS program where students excavate a simulated archaeology dig. You'll be able to get a hands-on feel for this activity weather-permitting!

Collection; Facility Tour: You've seen the exhibits, but what happens to those items that don't make it on the museum floor? Tour the OHS Collections Facility for a true behind-the-scenes look!

Archives-Library Tour: Discover how you can take advantage of this great resource!

Primary Source Activity: You've seen the primary sources in the Collections Facility and the Archives-Library, now what do you do with them? Participate in an activity using items from the OHS collections and take home a resource CD filled with great primary sources to use in your classroom!

History Day: Interested in having your students participate in a rewarding history research project? History Day is for you!

Distance Learning: Learn more about the wide-range of Distance Learning programs offered by OHS and bring history into your classroom!

Center and site programming: What better way to immerse your students in history than with a trip to OHS or one of our sites. Staff will discuss the variety of ways OHS caters to educators and their students!

Cost is $75 and includes transportation to and from OHS as well as lunch and a resource CD.
A minimum of fifteen participants are needed for this pre-conference.
